MONTANA HOLDS PRIMARY

None for the Democrats.

Heiena, April 23.—Chief interest in Montana's presidential proforence primary today centered in the fight within the ranks of the Republican party. There were five candidates for the presidential nomination and twenty-cight candidates for delegante, of whom eight had been republished by Chiefman, J. C. Tressice and Socretary Hazelbaker of the central committee.

The eight were alleged in published statements to have been selected because of their names, each of which began with a letter near the head of the alphabet and were alleged to be candidates for the National party. Each of the eight, in filing for the head of the sight, in filing for the hemotration, had promised to vote for Hiram Johnson. Warren G. Harding, Herbert Hoover, Hiram W. Johnson and Frank O. Lowden and Leonard Wood were the Republican presidential candidates. The Democrats had no presidential candidate for the vice presidential nomination.

Under the state law delegates to the mitimal conventions must abide by the preference for president expressed by the voters.

It is Real Bread!

So many people now have MERIT BREAD as a regular part of their daily eating that they fail to remember the days before MERIT set the standard for good bread in this city. Yet, until MERIT came, few people were aware that bread so good could possibly be made in any bakery. The most experienced home bread maker would have declared it was impossible day after day to turn out bread of the uniform quality and ever present fineness of flavor that you find in MERIT whenever you buy it, today, tomorrow or any Systematized as probably few other manufacturing establishments are, even those which may be working upon scientific appliances where the utmost exactitude is required, our bakery is operated with a watchful care that guards every process of making MERIT. Our bakers do not have "off days." Scientific methods guarantee there will be no "fall downs" in baking MERIT.
